The program requires 20 hours of natural sciences that must be completed before enrolling in some lower division and all upper division nutrition courses. These 20 hours of natural science courses are not offered in an online format by The University of Alabama at this time. Please review the course series below. Place a check mark beside the courses you have completed. Please keep in mind that transfer credit is not evaluated until after admission is granted. You may refer to the Registrar's website, http://registrar.ua.edu/ to view the transfer course equivalency tables. It is strongly suggested that you complete the courses below before application to the program.
